

Circle Protector

The Taxpayers

Take all the people that I don't know yet
And put em in bottles that you can protect
Flash burn their living to my memories
That float down the river out into the sea
That float down the river out into the sea

Tell all the senseless events to be gone
Give all the naked a place to belong
Take all the brokenness, place it on leaves
That float down the river out into the sea

Circle my son
Circle my home
Circle my planet and all that is known
A circle protecting, enriching within
Endlessly ending to always begin
Endlessly ending to always begin

Tell all the senseless events to be gone
Give all the naked a place to belong
Take all the brokenness, place it on leaves
That float down the river out into the sea
