Fire in the Head

The Tea Party

you stay silent, knowing, always in time see how this love stays divine sleep here hoping, knowing, always in time see how the love stays divine and i'm waiting when I return to her I find i'm waiting flowers of evil in my mind and i'm waiting dancing with fire on the edge i'm waiting remembering all of what she said and i'm waiting hoping the rains will wash away i'm waiting hoping a guide will show the way and i'm waiting dancing with fire on the edge i'm waiting remembering all of what she said with this fire in the head
