

Sunshower

The Tea Party

And so, so the time's come
I guess I'll walk down, down to the sea
Such a strange fascination facing me
Of what it almost was
Will now shall be
Can't slip away
Can't slip away

Well, the rain might follow you
The sun will shine on through
Sunshower, sunshower

Say goodbye to the golden age
When we were young and we were strong
There's a prince with a broken soul now
Using words and lies
To make it all seem wrong
Can't slip away
Can't slip away

Well, the rain might follow you
The sun will shine on through
Sunshower, sunshower

The rain might follow you
The sun will shine on through
Sunshower, sunshower

And the crash that parted my love
And to where we started my love, my love

Ah...

Rain might follow you
The sun will shine on through
Sunshower, sunshower

The rain might follow you
The sun will shine on through
Sunshower, sunshower

C'mon c'mon c'mon c'mon c'mon!
Come together
