

Serenity

The Temperance Movement

I heard that lonesome siren song
Drew into the harbour and I found my home
And she called me butterfly
Cos she knew that I would not live too long

Into her eyes I fell so deep
She covered me when the tempest would rise in my sleep
Wrapped in sweet serenity
She lay me down in rainbow dreams

Lord, may all my hard times be healing times
Take out this broken heart and renew my mind
Tears wash my eyes to see how to love again
Yes it's always been this way

I sailed a vessel lost at sea
I could hear the outside world but they could not hear me
At my last salute to thee
I heard that song and it set me free

Lord, may all my hard times be healing times
Take out this broken heart and renew my mind
Tears wash my eyes to see how to love again
Yes it's always been this way

Lord, may all my hard times be healing times
Take out this broken heart and renew my mind
Tears wash my eyes to see how to love again
Yes it's always been this way
