

Put Us Together Again

The Temptations

I can't seem to fill my time at all
I can't find good conversation
I try to pretend we never met
But that ain't no consolation
I'm lost, hoo yeah

I heard that I'm doing very well
And I don't need anybody
Well, I wish that was the truth of it, yeah
'Cause I ain't got you beside me

Where do we draw the line
Baby, there's some things that just... I just don't know
And I ain't giving up on another chance to...

Put us together again
If it's not too late
It's not the end
It could take time
But I could show you every reason why we should
Put us together again
Thing's are gonna be better again
Just one more try
To make it worth the love that we want it to be

I heard that you were leaving town today
I heard that you were getting married, oh no
Well, I hope it's just another rumor
'Cause my heart's getting hard to carry

Baby it's no surprise
I can't help it (putting us back together babe)
Thinking I just can't get myself over you
It's been a while
And I've been holding out on another chance to

Put us together again
If it's not too late
It's not the end
It could take time
But I could show you every reason why we should
Put us together again
Thing's are gonna be better again
Just one more try
To make it worth the love that we want it to be

Put us together again
If it's not too late
It's not the end
It could take time
But I could show you every reason why we should
Put us together again
Thing's are gonna be better again
Just one more try
To make it worth the love that we want it to be
