

Oceans Of Emotions

The Teskey Brothers

When I first met you baby, everything I knew
Wasn't any brighter, than a shade of blue
Your blue eyes and brown hair, how could I resist?
But the colour of your stare, it doesn't compare

Times were better when I was still there
I was better when I was still there

Now we're swimming through
Oceans of emotions, seven days at a time
Oh the waters blue and so are you
I won't be running out any time soon

I go up and I come down
When I remember the day, I was still around
Yeah the water was just right, like your lips so warm
But now my heart is torn, between the rose and the thorn

Yeah times were better when I was still there
I was better when I was still there

Now we're swimming through
But oceans of emotions, seven days at a time
Oh the waters blue and so are you
I won't be running out any time soon

Now we're swimming through
Oceans of emotions seven days at a time
Oh the waters blue and so are you
I won't be running out any time soon
I won't be running out any time soon
I won't be running out any time soon
