They piss 'n' moan and push 'n' shove So below as it is above From every mouth words blare Off every surface words glare 'Til there's nowhere to look except to stare

At reflections in the subway glass Fluorescent lit skin looks harsh So best pretend to be asleep In case you have to give up your seat To anyone less fortunate than

But the train stops beneath the streets Shift your legs tap your feet Open an eye, start to speak But the words get stuck between your teeth

Truth is truth, lies are lies Headlines strike between the eyes But when is a word not a word? How's the meaning been reversed?

Twisted, torn, tricked and turned
Inside out, upside down
'Til there's nothing left to talk about
Except yourself

So you say
"I spy with my
Little eye
Something beginning with me"

Ever get lonely?
Don't you ever feel phony?
Ain't the train going slowly?
They say it's gonna get snowy

Don't you ever feel holy?
And think you wanna be a yogi?
What a load of baloney
Do you wanna come home with me?

Don't you ever get lonely? Don't you ever get

Roll over, roll over Roll over, roll over Roll over, roll over Roll over, roll over
