

I Could Be

The Tokens

I could swim and I could fly
I could eat huckleberry pie
I could sew and I could buy
I could know that I don't know why

I could live long, long, long
I could die within a week
I could speak not one word
With a million words to speak

I could sick and I could ache
I could be early, I could be late
I could love and I could hate
I could be nothing, I could be great

I could live long, long, long
I could die within a week
I could speak not one word
With a million words to speak

I could die within a week
With a million words to speak

I could win and I could lose
I could read the daily news...
