

Suicides Best Friend

The Tony Danza Tapdance Extravaganza

Do you still see their small hands? Can you hear their soft voice? And not even an ounce of your time Was reflection of their choice. Not even a thought crossed your mind Now the crowd gathers around It's all over Little feet ran through trash you brought about Still, their love for you was absolutely no doubt Then life gets hard as life always can be The decision you made will never set you free Are you free? Then the walls closed in on trailer park dirty south, And the only thing that you could do Was put a gun in your mouth Your wife cried in my arms on the day they put you in the ground Your little girls cried and that was the loudest sound I have nothing left to say I am speechless now The only thing I can do for you Is turn my back and walk away
