

The Breakdown

The Trews

I'm sick and tired of being sick and tired all the time
All my worst fear is coming to mind
Waking up over my head
I'm in deep
I made my own bed

Everything feels like a giant regret
When you're up to your ears in heartache and debt
I took a shower
Stared at the drain
Wiped the mirror
And there was my face

Freedom lies on the other side

Young blood
Look in my eyes
You're a fool not to cry
You're crazy not to break down

I dabbled in vain
And I got my heart broke
I talked to good game
But I must've misspoke
Silverlake took its toll
My shiny things they all got old

But freedom lies on the other side
When you break your dreams and you lose your mind

Young blood
Look in my eyes
You're a fool not to cry
You're crazy not to break down
This life is full of surprise
The sun also rises
You're crazy not to breakdown

Are you ready?
Are you ready?
Are you ready for the breakdown?
Are you ready?
Are you ready?
Are you ready for the breakdown?

I don't wanna be the bitter bad guy
I wanna light a fire and watch the Sparks fly
Waking up in the bed I made
Gotta clean this room and get on my way

Youngblood
Look in my eyes
You're a fool not to cry
You're crazy not to break down
This life is full of surprise
The sun also rises
You're crazy not to breakdown

Youngblood
Look in my eyes
You're crazy not to break down
This life is full of surprise
You're crazy not to live now