

And I remember that day
It was our last
And when the tempers that fray
Can't go back

Be careful what you're selling
You can't take a telling
No reason to your lesson
Is that your son
Is what you used to say

Now you're content in your ways, content in your ways
Who cares if she stays, and counting your days

And I remember that day
It was our last
And when the tempers that fray
Can't go back

Be careful what you're selling
Be careful what you're selling
You can't take a telling
Is that your son
Is what you used to say

Now you're content in your ways, content in your ways
Content in your ways, content in your ways
Content in your ways, content in your ways
Content in your ways, content in your way

There is only one way that's just gonna end
Only one way that's just gonna end
Is that your son
Is what you used to say

And there's a bedroom around the corner
Her bedroom across the hall
If you'd been there, seen her, fly to the ground
Been there, seen her, fly to the ground

Was it mine to give away
It wasn't mine to give away
If you'd been there, seen her, fly to the ground
Been there, seen her, fly to the ground

No answer
When you asked her over
No answer
When you asked her over

And I won't work no more
Because we all knew whose fault it was
And we all knew whose fault it was
And I won't work no more
Because we all knew who's fault it was
And we all knew whose fault it was
And we all knew whose fault it was

And we all knew whose fault it was

And I won't let you go through the day again
And I won't let you go through the day again
Time, one day, goodbye
Another one you're left too disappointed

And I won't let you go through the day again
And I won't let you go through the day again

And I won't work no more
Because we all knew whose fault it was
And we all knew whose fault it was

And I won't let you go through the day again
And I won't let you go through the day again
Die, one day, goodbye
Another one you're left too disappointed

And I won't let you go through the day again
And I won't let you go through the day again