

Facts Of Love

The Twins

Since we met each other yesterday my life's changed in a most remarkable way
I arrived there late but still you waited
Since that time I've been infatuated.

I'll never have to worry again about falling in love
She is the woman that I've been dreaming of.

The way you look, the way I feel
These are the facts of love
The beating heart I can't conceal
These are the facts of love.

Since you left me last night at the station
I've been in a state of fascination
I only need to look into your eyes
And hear you say there'll be no more goodbyes.

I'll never have to worry again about falling in love
She is the woman that I've been dreaming of.

The way you look, the way I feel
These are the facts of love
The beating heart I can't conceal
These are the facts of love.
