Phobos Grip

The Unguided

As natural (as) it seems not to bring sticks and stones to a knife fight
You shouldn't bring guns to a nuclear war

Finally free, with some intervention by a loyal bogey
Evil has left the building
But my heart is full throttle aching
As devious as the stone face of Mars watches Phobos
The unguided mauler will strike at the heart of fear
And in my escape I managed to get a good hit at him
It was not enough to end my torturer

But you didn't have to cut me up

Heart like a rock when their heads gonna roll
I will bring back everything they stole
Gimmie, gimmie, gimme your blood after midnight
Time it takes and never gives
It will decide who lives
But first I must set this straight
Smash, smash, smash down heaven's gate

What information, he retrieved from me
I do not know, but they needed it badly
Know this; I'm not human, only human enough
But I'm wired directly, to the core of this world

As devious as the stone face of Mars watches Phobos
The unguided mauler will strike at the heart of fear

But you didn't have to cut me up

Heart like a rock when their heads gonna roll
I will bring back everything they stole
Gimmie, gimmie, gimme your blood after midnight
Time it takes and never gives
It will decide who lives
But first I must set this straight
Smash, smash, smash down heaven's gate

The brighter I shine, the denser my shadow grows
They must not establish an uplink, to this planet's soul

But you didn't have to cut me up
Why did you cut me up?

Heart like a rock when their heads gonna roll
I will bring back everything they stole
Gimmie, gimmie, gimme your blood after midnight
Time it takes and never gives
It will decide who lives
But first I must set this straight
Smash, smash, smash down heaven's gate
Heart like a rock when their heads gonna roll
