

Red Alert

The Unguided

All the empathy is getting colder
While the world is getting warmer
Curtain closed and the dead hand system
Is in full operation now

The world, it always knew he could
But never thought he would
The writing on the wall is fading

Drunk on vainglorious power

Feeling safe inside the walls (inside the walls that you fortified)
People dying in the streets of the war (the streets of the war that you justified)
We will rise up from the deepest trenches
And fight, fight, fight for the freedom of our kind
Our future can't be denied

Save your waterworks it's not yet over
Brothers and sisters move as one
And you can't play chess with someone
Willing to set the board on fire

Drunk on vainglorious power

Feeling safe inside the walls (inside the walls that you fortified)
People dying in the streets of the war (the streets of the war that you justified)
We will rise up from the deepest trenches
And fight, fight, fight for the freedom of our kind
Our future can't be denied

In your fortress of solitude
Even you will know
From here on it's a different world
Distrust your own shadow
And how the truth was never your concern
But we will remember the crimson return

Feeling safe inside the walls

Feeling safe inside the walls (inside the walls that you fortified)
People dying in the streets of the war (the streets of the war that you justified)
We will rise up from the deepest trenches

And fight, fight, fight for the freedom of our kind
Our future can't be denied
