

I'm not complete yet
'Cause what I need is your healing
I'm astray, forlorn
Dead, unborn
A lone wolf without a home
I clearly feel it's all corrupt
I was made to self-destruct
But for so long
I tried to find the missing pieces
This heart almost doesn't beat

I can't let go
My desire, my denial
I take this irredeemable life
And give it for your grace

I clearly see the amount of blue
A somber view
Cannot resist you
A complementary glow
A sign of a difference
Takes me right to you
Room bends the distance

I can't let go
My desire, my denial
I take this irredeemable life
And give it for your grace

Then I'll be gone
Once the time is right
I'll be firelight