

Vibrant

The Valuator Time

Rise and shine
From a blighted state of mind
Shaped by obsolete regrets
A scenery unfolds

All you can see is just a faded saturation
In a city full of vibrant colors
A mindless sight in black and white
Let it illuminate
I am fading into concrete
With time invalidated
It devours the flame
That keeps me from turning soulless, mindless

I am alive
With every breath I take, I regain energy
I am floating and this
Gravity won't pull me back
I am alive
And I feel it in my blood
So I am baring my bones
In newfound certainty

I have to redefine myself
I have to redefine

I am alive
With every breath I take, I regain energy
I am floating and this
Gravity won't pull me back
I am alive
And I feel it in my blood
So I am baring my bones
In newfound certainty, certainty

I am fading into concrete
With time invalidated, invalidated

I am not soulless, mindless
Soulless, mindless
I had to redefine myself
With every step I take
I find my way back home
