

City of the Sun

The Veer Union

The coldest nights are now appearing
Followed by all I'm fearing
With bated breath my tears are pouring from my eyes
Few moments left but I'm not ready to say goodbye

After life I can see it nearing
My loves life it is disappearing
My only saving grace is I'll see you again
Until that day I know that

I will be waiting, suffocating through it all
My world's been ripped away
Now I'm counting down the days
I will be waiting, fight till I'm fading through it all
My world's been ripped away
But there will come a day when

I'll see you in the city of the sun
Of the sun

Watched the light in your eyes leaving
Helpless I couldn't start the healing
Prayed everyday before you finally went away
Now all that's left is just a broken shell of me
Starless skies is all I'm seeing
Haunted by this empty feeling
My only saving grace is I'll see you again
Until that day I know that

I will be waiting, suffocating through it all
My world's been ripped away
Now I'm counting down the days
I will be waiting, fight till I'm fading through it all
My world's been ripped away
But there will come a day when

I'll see you in the city of the sun
Of the sun
I will see the innocence in your eyes again
Just hold on
I'll die to see the innocence in your eyes again
Just hold on

I'll see you in the city
I'll see you in the city
In the city of the sun
I'll see you in the city
In the city of the sun
I'll see you in the city (I'll see you again)
In the city of the sun
I will see the innocence in your eyes again
In the city of the sun
I'll see you in the city (I'll see you again)
In the city of the sun
I'll see you in the city of the sun
Of the sun
I'll die to see the innocence in your eyes again

Just hold on
