

Only Time Will Tell

The Veer Union

Lying awake on the edge of my bed
My vision is blurred and I'm starting to sweat
I don't wanna be another tear in the seams
I see who you are past the spit and the screams

We've gotta push on through
This avenue to see

All we have is here and now
The future's hard to sell
If you and I were meant to be
Only time will tell
Only time will tell, time will tell, oh
Only time will tell, time will tell
And no one said, no one said
No one said it would be easy

You want it to feel like a fantasy (fantasy)
But I can make that real
So open up your mind to me
And tell me how you feel

I can't believe you'd give it up
And let our dreams all turn to dust
We've gotta push on through
This avenue to see

All we have is here and now
The future's hard to sell
If you and I are meant to be
Only time will tell
Only time will tell, time will tell, oh
Only time will tell, time will tell
And no one said, no one said
No one said it would be

Looking back on it
I let [?] things we never said
And now we had the chance to break this trance
And save us from the edge

Yeah

All we have is here and now
The future's hard to sell
If you and I are meant to be
Only time will tell

All we have is here and now
The future's hard to sell
If you and I were meant to be
Only time will tell
Only time will tell, time will tell, oh
Only time will tell, time will tell
And no one said, no one said
No one said it would be
And no one said, no one said

No one said it would be easy
