

Plan for My Escape

The Veer Union

Endless days and endless nights
Fading further from the light
A thousand tears a thousand times
Just to find that I was right

(You changed underneath the surface)
You're not who you used to be
(I hope that it was worth it)
You changed right in front of me

You turned into the thing you hate
You turned into my last mistake
You stepped into a world gone black
Now there ain't no turning back
This is why I'll make a plan for my escape
This is why I'll make a plan for my escape
This is how I will make this half of me whole

Above the grey I will be
I will take what's left of me
To heal the trust that you have breached
It just seems so out of reach

(You changed underneath the surface)
You're not who you used to be
(I hope that it was worth it)
You changed right in front of me

You turned into the thing you hate
You turned into my last mistake
You stepped into a world gone black
Now there ain't no turning back
This is why I'll make a plan for my escape
This is why I'll make a plan for my escape
This is how I will make this half of me whole

And now I'm stepping away from the edge, from the edge
And now I'm finally walking from the ledge, from the ledge
And now I will carry on

(A plan for my escape)
(A plan for my escape)

You turned into the thing you hate
You turned into my last mistake
You stepped into a world gone black
Now there ain't no turning back
This is why I'll make a plan for my escape
This is why I'll make a plan for my escape
This is how I will make this half of me whole
I will make this half of me whole
