

Another Night On Earth

The Veils

I went out walkin' in the night under the cover of a riot
I came upon a faded sign and then everything went quiet
It said thou shalt not enter here
Thou shalt know only hollow answers
So I headed home alone to momma's ghost and daddy's cancers

Is it worth it if I get hurt? Just for another night on this earth?

Is it worth it if I get hurt? Just for another night on this earth?

You've never really felt at home but buddy is it any wonder?
When if the Earth could have her way she'd knock you dead and drag you under?
Do we just not matter at all or is that the Gods are insane?
Or is it the troubles of the universe or just the troubles of the human brain?

Is it worth it if I get hurt? Just for another night on this earth?

Is it worth it if I get hurt? Just for another night on this earth?

I tried to write it in a song, I tried to put it in a letter
But love no matter what I do I don't know nothin' any better
I think I've been waiting long enough, it's time you gave it all to me straight
I won't be 'round here very long and can you tell the hour is getting late?

But it's worth it if I get hurt, just for another night on this earth

Yeah it's worth it if I get hurt, just for another night on this earth

It's worth it if I get hurt, just for another night on this earth

And it's worth it if I get hurt, just for another night on this earth

I hope I don't go 'til I've seen everything
I hope I don't go 'til I've felt everything
I hope I don't go 'til I've seen everything
I hope I don't go 'til I've felt everything
I hope I don't go 'til I've seen everything
I hope I don't go 'til I've felt everything
I hope I don't go 'til I've seen everything
I hope I don't go 'til I've felt everything
I hope I don't go 'til I've seen everything

I hope I don't go 'til I've felt everything
