

Don't she seem
Like some faded picture
And don't she stare
Sad as the still, wide ocean

Over me come all the rain and lights
Over me, she took my hand and now there's no other

Don't you see
She is never-ending?
She walked on stones
From Ellis End to Maryland

Over me come all the rain and lights
Over me, she took my hand and now there's no other

Don't you see
She is never-ending?
She walked on stones
From Ellis End to Maryland

Over me come all the rain and lights
Over me, she took my hand and now there's no other
She took my hand and now there's no other
She took my hand and now there's no other
She took my hand and now there's no other

And in this dream
We go on forever
We climb the stairs
Thought I was good for nothing, and then

Over me came all the rain and lights
Over me, she took my hand and now there's no other
She took my hand and now there's no other
She took my hand and now there's no other
She took my hand and now there's no other
