

Broken

The Veronicas

Sometimes I wonder if you even care
It's the way that you act like I'm not even there
And you know that's not how it's supposed to be
So I'm opening your eyes for you to finally see me

I am broken inside
And if I said I was invincible, I lied
And I can't do this anymore 'cause I've tried
Now I'm broken

Today turned out just like yesterday
It's not what you said but what you didn't say
And now you've pushed me further than you know
I'm waiting for the time when I can finally let go

I am broken inside
And if I said I was invincible, I lied
And I can't do this anymore 'cause I've tried
Now I'm broken

In pieces, believe me
I thought you'd never leave me
But these days, I'm not so sure

I am broken inside
And if I said I was invincible, I lied
And I can't do this anymore 'cause I've tried
Now I'm broken

I am broken inside
And if I said I was invincible, I lied
And I can't do this anymore, even though I'm not so sure
I will lock myself inside
'Cause I am broken
