

Without You

The Veronicas

I know you said I will never find myself
Not without you
My biggest fan, not allowed to sing a note
Not without you
You took my makeup, said don't bother
Cause they won't watch me without you
Told me I'm sick and I'm not ever getting better without you

But there's so much that you got wrong about me
I'm shining brighter now, you just wait and see

Without you
I can hear my voice again
Without you
I can cry and not pretend
Without you
I finally see that I'm enough
Without you
I have learned to love myself

I know that you would rather keep me in a prison I can't leave
But the truth is you can never take my freedom without me
But I have learned to love myself
I finally see that I'm enough

Without you
I can hear my voice again
Without you
I can cry and not pretend
Without you
I finally see that I'm enough
Without you
I have learned to love myself

Without you
Without you
Without you
Without you
Without you
