

Remnants of cold dark nights
There is no end in sight
I Shiver and I can hardly breathe

I wish I could hold you tight
I wish I could keep things right
But wishing ain't made for you or me

Dreaming silently
One step towards me
You whispering my name
Every day the same

I swallow my heart and the sun
To show you what I've become
So you see where I am coming from

Reflected in morning light
So colorful and bright
I've never seen such a day

Take me to my grave
Nothing left to save
You whispering my name
Every day the same