

I'll Be Waiting

The Violent

I know you're giving in to all of your mistakes
But you can undo them by standing face to face
It's not the fantasy, it's not the dream you fake
But it's reality, trust me, for goodness's sake
I'll be waiting, and I'll be waiting on you
As long as I can stand to take it
I'll be waiting, and I'll be waiting on you
For you to turn around and face it
I'll be waiting on you, but not forever
Thought you were someone to save, but you keep running away
We turn back time, just turn around
With your neck on the blade, we could step back away
We could turn back time, just turn around
Turn back time if you just turn around
We could turn back time if you just turn around
Oh, turn around, yeah
Could set myself on fire to save your wandering soul
But I could not endure, patience can take its toll
It's not a sacrifice that I have grown to need
So take yourself in spite as if I'd ever leave
I'll be waiting, and I'll be waiting on you
For you to turn around and face it
I'll be waiting on you, but not forever
Thought you were someone to save, but you keep running away
We could turn back time, just turn around
With your neck on the blade, we could step back away
We could turn back time, just turn around
Just turn around
Just turn around
Just turn around
Ooh-yeah

I lie, I cheat, I fail, I bleed
I lie, I cheat, I fail, I bleed
I lie, I cheat, I fail, I bleed
I lie, I cheat, I fail, I bleed
Oh, oh, no
Oh, no
Oh, oh, no
Thought you were someone to save, but you keep running away
We turn back time, just turn around
With your neck on the blade, we could step back away
We could turn back time, just turn around
We turn back time if you just turn around
We could turn back time if you just turn around
With your neck on the blade, we could step back away
We could turn back time, just turn around
Just turn around
Just turn around
Just turn around
Turn around
