

Devil Keeps Coming

The Virginmarys

When the devil keeps coming I hit the ground running
Mixing up the medicine stops my head fuzzing
I watch the bats hang from the power lines buzzing
They disappear in turn

Singing my hallucinogen hallowed by everything
A short sharp electrical shock to the head again
This ain't California
This is war

Fought in my head
This is war
Fought in my head
This is war

Blackout enemy, short-term memory
Motherboard crying for reset therapy
Check yourself man, my mind is like ten of me
I feel my hard drive burn

And when the devil keeps coming I hit the ground running
The devil keeps coming I hit the ground running
This ain't California
This is war

It's fought in my head
This is war
It's fought in my head
This is war

You better call help
I think you better call help

You better call help
I think you better call help
Think you better call help
You better call

When the devil keeps coming I hit the ground running
The devil keeps coming I hit the ground running
The devil keeps coming now
The devil keeps coming now

When the devil keeps coming I hit the ground running
The devil keeps coming I hit the ground running
The devil keeps coming, the devil keeps coming now