Into the Unknown

The Vision Bleak

Step into the dark, drag yourself along the twine.
That's been out there and was spun for you since a long time.
Allow the pain, so agony can teach its exalted secrecy.
Overcome the fear, take yourself into the great maelstrom's whi rling eye.
With mind aloof and heart aflame,
I shall never be the same.
Into the unknown where the obscure reigns,
I shall never be again, the same again!

Nocturnal pathways call, hear them now, summon you.
Heavy fogs that enshroud the mind, dim your view.
Look upward and from the firmament, pluck the stars inflame.
From the light and from the dark within, you will know your ver y name.

With mind aloof and heart aflame,
I shall never be the same.
Into the unknown where the obscure reigns,
I shall never be again.

With mind aloof and heart aflame,
I shall never be the same.
Into the unknown where the obscure reigns,
I shall never be again, the same again!
I shall never be the same!
I shall never be again, the same again!
