

Good

The Walls Group

Well he stepped into nothing and said let there be light
And it was good, real good
And he hung the moon and the stars up in the sky
And it was good, real good
And then he made the water, the land and the living things
And it was good, real good
And then he made the beasts and the birds, all the little fishes and bugs
And it was good, real good

And then god kneeled down and scooped up some dirt and some clay
He made us like him in every way
Then all creation had to bow at his command
And in seven days he made it all with the wave of his hand

Well he healed the sick and he raised the dead
And it was real good, real good
Five thousand hungry people my lord fed
And they was good, real good
And there was a young woman with the issue of blood
And he healed her real good, real good
And there was a blind man who could not see
But now he see real good, real good

The story goes a little something like this
He was out on convicted and given of [?]
They hung him high on the cross at Calvary
But then he got up from the grave for you and for me

Let [?] can say not much about him
He's good, real good
So as you go on to your day it might get a little rough
But god he is good, real good

My god is good, real good
God is good, real good
God is good, real good
Good, real good
