The Walters

I remember the days
That were so far gone
You don't seem to feel the way
I do, it sucks 'cause

When we've gotta leave this place
We're gonna miss it
Crazy you don't even know
That you've been distant

So I made a quick decision
With friends all by the door
You stood there in the kitchen with your
Eyes fixed on the floor
The logical solution you'd ignore
You always wanted more than this

There wasn't a turning point
That I could think of
It was just another day
Where we all linked up

Now it's clear what's happening
And I'm so bummed out
Wasting all my energy
So you might calm down

But you make the same decisions
And you left us at the door
You're sitting in the kitchen with your
Eyes fixed on the floor
The logical solution you'd ignore
You always wanted more than this
