

It's Not Over Yet

The War And Treaty

Will your heart beat for no one but yourself?
Have you lost all your faith in good health?
Are you dying to live within your cell?
Have you cancelled out heaven just for hell?

I see your pain, you wear it on your sleeve
Mistake the rain for the tears you cried in your sleep
I know it's dark and the clouds all look like
A pile of smoke from your heart

But it's not over yet
You got more to live for
You're not over yet
Happiness is at your door
It's not over yet
Here's your unclouded day
It's not over yet for you and me

Is this message too hard to receive?
In a all of your relief
Turn your doubt into belief
I give you back your joy, if you give me your grief

I see your pain, you wear it on your sleeve
Mistake the rain for the tears you cried in your sleep
I know it's dark and the clouds all look like
A pile of smoke from your heart

But it's not over yet
You got more to live for
It's not over yet
Happiness is at your door
It's not over yet
Here's your unclouded days
It's not over yet for you and me

Whoa, whoa
Whoa, whoa
Whoa, whoa

What if all that is and all that was before
Was just a test to see if we'll handle more?
What if the loss was gain and the gain was truly loss?
Happiness is freedom, a chain with a cost

Whoa, whoa
Whoa, whoa
Whoa, whoa
Whoa, whoa
