

Our Mistakes

The Warning

Walking the streets with you feeling nothing again
We're not the same anymore, the spark has gone away
I'm fooling myself with this thing I've created in my head
I've always believed there was no one for me
That's why I won't leave

They say love never dies, but every time I try
You end up making me cry like

Oh, it's always your fault
But I'm always there to take the blame
Oh, it's a dilemma
Between my heart and my head
Oh, and you played your part
And it's always me who has to pay
For all your mistakes

I knew we were different, but still I risked it all
My fear of loneliness is tearing down my walls
I'm trying to hide it, but I can't deny that this isn't love
The harder I try, the faster we start to reach the fall

They say love never dies, but every time I try
You end up making me cry like

Oh, it's always your fault
But I'm always there to take the blame
Oh, it's a dilemma
Between my heart and my head
Oh, and you played your part
And it's always me who has to pay
For all your mistakes

Oh, oh, oh
Oh, oh, oh, you make me cry like
Oh, oh, oh
Oh, oh, oh

They say love never dies, but every time I try
You end up making me cry like

Oh, it's always your fault
But I'm always there to take the blame
Oh, it's a dilemma
Between my heart and my head
Oh, and you played your part
And it's always me who has to pay
For all your mistakes
