

The One

The Warning

I'll do anything to make it happen
Tell me your secrets, what are you hiding?
Remember me as I was before
It is something that I have decided
Even if my intent is misguided
Don't want to be, never mind me

Can you explain to me what's this feeling?
Love it or hate it, it's never leaving
Want to believe that you feel it too
There is no reason to even doubt it
Please understand that I am not lying
My heart is true, it beats for you

Always staring from afar
Fantasizing that something might happen
Always wishing that I was
The one, the one, the one

Give me something I can feel
I'm too afraid to ask
What is it I need to change
For you to love me back?
Is it all in my head? Was it something you said
That left my heart exposed?
And I know that I'm not the one on your mind
But still, let me be the one

There's no guarantee that I'll be forgiven
But it's just something that I am willing
To do for you, there's nothing left to prove
And I want to kill all the love that's for you
So only mine remains, there's nothing to choose
You'll look at me and only me

Always staring from afar
Fantasizing that something might happen
Always wishing that I was
The one, the one, the one

Give me something I can feel
I'm too afraid to ask
What is it I need to change
For you to love me back?
Is it all in my head? Was it something you said
That left my heart exposed?
And I know that I'm not the one on your mind
But still, let me be

Say that you will really never hurt or leave me
Say it and it will come true
Hold me like you really love me
Tell me that you do

Give me something I can feel
I'm too afraid to ask
What is it I need to change

For you to love me back?
Is it all in my head? Was it something you said
That left my heart exposed?
And I know that I'm not the one on your mind
But still, I will be the one
