The Warning

It's tasting bitter over time
Loneliness, dear friend of mine
Pull the trigger, love me happily
Kitchen knife, the meanly savior
Here's your star for good behavior
Is it not all that you wished for once?

Watch out, better wash your hands
Watch out, better understand
Watch out 'cause the truth they sell is rarely true
Watch out 'cause it's coming back for you

Wear the blindfold, drink the tide
Who will we destroy this time?
Revolutionary Kool-Aid kids
Happiness, the lowly traitor
Kill the raw, one like, one prayer
Disappointing how we're used to fall
(I think that you should)

Watch out, better wash your hands
Watch out, better understand
Watch out 'cause the truth they sell is rarely true
Watch out 'cause it's coming back for you

Yeah
I think that we should
I think that we should
I think that we should
I think that we should
I think that we should
