

Raised All Wrong

The Weakerthans

You can sleep all day if the day allows it
Tell them how it's all come down to how
You've grown so tired of them being gone
You can search all night in a night full of sky
Or run around destroying out of habit
So no one else can have it
Just tell them you were raised all wrong
You may have been born to walk
But you never really had to run away from anything like this before
You never really had to get away from anything like this before
