

Take Me Back

The Weeknd

I've been manipulated a hundred times, but None of them felt so soft and kind, and Hell is a place for what we tried, but Never felt so wrong in my mind, and Never understood why Mama cried, and Could it be because our secret's hiding?
I always thought someday you'd find us, but
Waiting for you is like slowly dying

'Cause you kept me warm
You held me close until you let me go
Now my blood is cold
I never had the time to let you know

Take me back
Take me back

All of me, take all of me
All of me, all of me
Take me back
Take me back
Take me back

Where do we go from here?
Hold my heart and set me free
Where do we go from here?
Kiss me with each melody
Someone I used to fear
'Cause I loved your forbidden touch
The thought of you cut so deep
So I'll open up my scars

'Cause it keeps me warm
Just hold me close, I'll never let you go
'Cause now my blood is cold
I'm waiting for the day you call my phone

Take me back
Take me back

All of me, take all of me
All of me, all of me
Take me back
Take me back
Take me back
