

Love Song #2

The White Buffalo

Nine hours away
Count the minutes, pass the days
I'm all wrapped up in an endless haze, I'm missing you
Wish you could poison me with your stare
Heart and soul beyond repair
But you sit idly unaware that I was missing you

Oh my darling, will I see you again?
Rather just pretend that you're around
Oh my darling, will I see you again?
Rather just pretend that you're around

I got drunk, another fight
It helps me sleep through the night
Well I still stare at your picture every night, when I was kissing you
Memories explode in thin air
Fireworks of times we shared
As you sit idly unaware that I was missing you

Oh my darling, will I see you again?
Rather just pretend that you're around
Oh my darling, will I see you again?
I'd rather just pretend that you're around

All a loss, and the sun don't seem to blaze
Spend my days and my nights alone

Oh my darling, will I see you again?
Rather just pretend that you're around.

It's alarming how my thoughts of you will send me to a place I can pretend that you're around.
