

God Damn

The Wildhearts

God damn I've found myself back on the starting block again
Confused and drained of blood I never knew I couldn't bend

Gonna find a lover now who'll show me what it's all about
They'll take me by my crooked hand
And pull me to the warming light and wash away the burning shit
e
I'm gonna make it right I know I'll rise again

Right I know I got to get myself back in the fight
I know I got to be a better person to survive
This life and all the troubles hitting smack right in my face
Can't see the way I need a hand to stop my fall from grace

God damn my life!

God damn I find myself back on the starting block again
Confused and drained of blood I never knew I couldn't bend... I
'll break again

Jump to it wake up man you gotta push that crap aside
When people say you're wrong you know they're right just light it slide
Pull me to the warming light and wash away the burning shite
I'm gonna make it right I know I'll rise again

Right I know I got to get myself back in the fight
I know I got to be a better person to survive
This life and all the troubles hitting smack right in my face
Can't see the way I need a hand to stop my fall from grace

God damn my life!

God-Damn-My-Life!

God-Damn-My-Life!

God damn I find myself back on the starting block again!

God damn I find myself back on the starting block again!
