

Human Beings

The Wind and the Wave

I have a lot, I should be grateful
But some days I'm so unstable I can't see
Anything clearly

I don't even wanna be around me
How can anybody else love me this way?

Somehow the bills still get paid
And there's never not food on the table
I know it ain't the end all be all
But somehow my band's still on a label

Good things all around me all the time
But I hardly ever see 'em
Tired of feeling all the feelings
Human beings let you down
Human beings let you down

What do you want? Shrug my shoulders
Keep losing all composure, I can't breathe
Please open a window
All the way, yeah, let the breeze in
I don't know what I believe in anymore
Real change is hard

I've tried not to freak out
Try not to worry about the future
I know I'm not alone, everyone feels like a loser

Even with all these
Good things all around me all the time
But I hardly ever see 'em
Tired of feeling all the feelings
Human beings let you down

Human beings let you down
Human beings let you down
Human beings let you down
Human beings let you down
Human beings let you down
Human beings let you down
Human beings let you down
Human beings let you down
Human beings let you down
Human beings let you down
Oh, they'll let you down
