

DEATH IS ONLY THE END IF YOU ASSUME THE STORY IS ABOUT YOU

The Word Alive

Awaken me

Recovery

Can't seem to find any peace of mind

Thoughts echoing in my head

Your memory is deafening when you're not in my bed

'Cause every time I think about you's like a black cloud

I'm blacking out again

You never told me that it'd be like this, it's too hard to forgive

Awaken me, recovery

I never knew that without you I'd lose the strength I need

Now that you're gone, I can't move on

It's like you're hunting me

'Cause every time I think about you's like a black cloud

I'm blacking out again

You never told me that it'd be like this, it's too hard to forgive

Awaken me, recovery

Ever since you've been gone, feels like I've been deceived

Emptiness, won't you leave

Awaken, awaken me

I used to think that I deserved so much better

Used to think I was so god damn clever

I'm always learning the hard way

I need to learn so that you'll stay

Stay with me

I know I'm a mess, fuck I'm a mess

And I think that I deserve this

If I must confess, be my witness

Be my witness

Awaken me, recovery

Ever since you've been gone, feels like I've been deceived

Emptiness, won't you leave

Awaken, awaken me
