

Run Away

The Word Alive

Your vision is blurred as you're on the way out
It's hard to deny on the way down
Can you hear my voice is it getting too loud?
I don't want you to make the same mistakes that I am now

Run away, run away but don't forget
Stay the same, stay the same you'll always regret
All the possibilities and what they meant
Run away run away and never come back
Never come back

Sometimes we forget to ignore the noise
No one seems to notice how it feels, to be let down

Run away, run away but don't forget
Stay the same, stay the same you'll always regret
All the possibilities and what they meant
Run away run away and never come back
Never come back

We all fall apart
It finds us the same, no matter who you are

Run away, run away but don't forget
Stay the same, stay the same you'll always regret
All the possibilities and what they meant
Run away run away and never come back
Never come back
