

Your Mirage

The Word Alive

You're the only one!
You're the only one!

Why can't this be what I want it to be?
Why can't I have the life I keep dreaming?
An empty bed with no one to share...
Moments too brief like you weren't even there!

Every second without you here, I keep thinking
I'll wake up
and you'll be there.

You're the only one I need.
Your body pressing against me.
I'll always be rushing home to see your face.
A never ending chase.

Keep asking questions, will there be answers?
Hidden mysteries, is this a love affair?

And you'll be there.
You know that I will be there.
For you, you know that I will be there.

You're the only one I need.
Your body pressing against me.
I'll always be rushing home to see your face.
A never ending chase.

When I'm gone are you lying there?
Thinking about a life that we can't share.
Empty promises I give, another life.
This isn't it!
This isn't it!

I won't let them destroy my dream.
I would give you my everything.
I can't let things just end this way.
You are my blessing, I am your curse!
