Lips

Just your love Just your shadow Just your voice And my soul Just your love Just your shadow Just your voice And my soul Just your lips My name on your lips You're wearing my lungs Drowned in oxygen Now you've set the scene High on intimacy Drawing me a bath I don't wanna know the way down I don't wanna know the way down Just your love I just want it all Just your shadow Just your voice I just want it all And my soul In my head, in my veins In the way you give and take In the way that you weigh On my body, on my brain Chemistry is wrecking a two, three time affair There's no guarantees Working through the seasons, pressed up against the ceiling Pushing down on me I don't wanna know the way down I don't wanna know the way down Just your love I just want it all Just your shadow Just your voice I just want it all And my soul In my head, in my veins In the way you give and take In the way that you weigh On my body, on my brain Just your neck Just your eyes Just your desire Just your love and my soul Just your love Just your shadow Just your voice

The xx

And my soul Just your love Just your shadow Just your voice And my soul I don't wanna know the way down
