

Open eyes

The xx

Open eyes, see for me
Under skyes we still see
It's enough, it's too much
When I lost faith I found love

Tonight I could lose the fight
But with you by my side
Everything will be all right

Close my mouth, words fall out
Come on, say, what it's about
You can tell there's something wrong
I've been here, you have been gone

And the skies don't seem so bright
But with you by my side
Everything would be alright
