

Make You Stay Tonight

The Years Gone By

We spent weeks and foggy windows
The nights we spent, we won't forget
Erase the sun from the west coast
The east heats up through your body's song
And I am wasted again
Another road meant for travel like this
We live like every day's a weekend
And we've got the time to just grow up,
It's everything we meant

It's the way we roll when I'm not big enough
To break away; its perfect, like sun on the east coast
And I know nothing, it makes my heart beat
In ways that I can't make you stay tonight.
Woah, tonight. Woah

Let me breathe
You take the train I'll take the car
With time to think
Of how to kill myself underwater
This year we've got another time bomb and I don't think I have the guts to turn this car around and say it's everything we meant.

It's the way we roll when I'm not big enough
To break away; its perfect, like sun on the east coast
And I know nothing, it makes my heart beat
In ways that I can't make you stay tonight.
Woah, tonight. Woah

IT'S NIGHTS LIKE THIS WHEN YOU REALIZE WHAT LIFE REALLY IS!

I will never forget this, no part of me wants to

I'm right here by your side tonight

It's the way we roll when I'm not big enough

To break away; its perfect, like sun on the east coast

And I know nothing, it makes my heart beat

In ways that I can't make you stay tonight.

Woah, tonight. Woah