

We're Fleeting

Them & I

Could I find ways to steal more time
There's less today but it's alright
And even though we know the end
I'd do it all over again

Lost for words could we lie down
I need some time to trace my doubt
And when it's through was it well spent
Or is this another remember when