

Not every broken beings are beautiful
But there is one
In my own eyes
Don't ask me where I got this feeling from
It is a mystery, I've yet to know
It would take some heart to love her
God, please make her understand
In my prayers, she'll forever be
Still I'm hoping endlessly
Do I have what it takes to earn her trust
Tell me now, what should I do
She's torn inside, oh please show her your path
Protect her from the world and evil
Guard her heart so she can see the good of life
I'm on my knees
Please set her free
It would take some heart to love her
God, please make her understand
In my prayers, she'll forever be
Still I'm hoping endlessly
Do I have what it takes to earn her trust
Tell me now, what should I do

I wanna know
Why did you give this feeling
Are you telling me what's coming
Is it going away
Should I wait on
I'm lost and I can't reach her
Is there a way to make things better
A way so I can reach her so I'll wait
So I'll wait

It would take some heart to love her
God, please make her understand
In my prayers, she'll forever be
Still I'm hoping endlessly

It would take some heart to love her
God, please make her understand
In my prayers, she'll forever be
Still I'm hoping endlessly
Do I have what it takes to earn her trust
Tell me now, what should I do
Tell me now, what should I do
