

Anthem

Therion

Blessed now be all friends in faith
Placing trust deep where future burns
Peace is rising from this day on
So will all of us return

For where mornings used to bring no hope
A new form of light shall reign
The source of this left a spark in my heart
Glowing to form a tone of ending pain
Out of the darkness to rise side by side
Let's join forever to the sound of pride

We will follow you Caesar Seth
You are sacred, from heaven sent
Nevermore shall we turn and flee
Truth in us shall fight for thee
In the future we will leave behind
Ceasing things we cannot find
Deep in our minds we will place hand on heart
Calling on angels you keep from the dark
Follow your light will we all, Caesar Seth
Until our savior brings the end

Trace the bloodline of ancient kings
It will tell us what future brings

Hope of lanterns within our souls
Will soon be glowing to behold

Lead lost ages to your open hand
They will fall into your heart again

Tomorrow we'll forge no chains for ourselves
Of peace and plenty we will live to tell
Our names take flight and this day will live on Wingless its riding circles of the sun
