

Hail Caesar!

Therion

Oh thee, Caesar Seth, mightiest of men, the chosen one
Light us, Caesar Seth, by your hand, the flame of liberty
Fly us, Caesar Seth, over distant land and over sea
Light us, Caesar Seth, by your hand, the flame of liberty

People, I serve you for one and for all
By the devotion and hope in my heart
Yes I will bring paradise on earth
Empty of sin, proud to burn

Caesar Seth, till the end and beyond do us defend
Beautiful will your art shape our world to whom you are

See, joy that thrives

He seems but harmless, so mild yet so strong
Upwards to heaven he will carry us

Don't be misled, his angel eyes are dark
Hear what I say
He is false

Caesar Seth, till the end and beyond do us defend
Beautiful will your art shape our world to whom you are

Greet Helena, love of mine and remember this:
Never any sweeter lips could I kiss

Hail to our Caesar, his beloved wife
And all true believers passing through time
Hail the new born season, all we do behold
Mark the age of reason prophets foretold
