THEY.

Even with the money and the power (Money and the power)
Still won't respect you (Still won't respect you)
And this world gon' test you
Oh, wish somebody told me
You can't forget where you started (Forget where you started)
That's still where your heart is (Still where your heart is)
This life is a blessing
Blessing, blessing

Got a lot on my conscience (Uh)
Startin' to feel like if I keep runnin', I'ma run out of options (Yeah, hey)
Switch the way I'm steppin', every move I make a little more cautious, uh
So every relationship I get in, it get a little more toxic (Toxic, baby)
Yeah, baby, huh
I wish the younger me could see me now
I wish my grandmama could see me now
I know them old bitches would still be down
But on the low, they'd love to see me drown
Better watch my temper, that's what turn me to the old me
If not for me, then for my dawgs that came before me
That's why I grind, it's up to me to tell they story
Gon' keep on shinin' 'til the day they can't ignore me

Even with the money and the power (Money and the power)
Still won't respect you (Still won't respect you)
And this world gon' test you
Oh, wish somebody told me
You can't forget where you started (Forget where you started)
That's still where your heart is (Still where your heart is)
This life is a blessing (Yeah, ADÉ)
Blessing, blessing (Man)

Take me back to Castle Boulevard
Young, dumb and full of heart
A drive you couldn't put in park
A crew you couldn't pull apart
Rap was fun and somethin' more
Ain't know the play was still was sure
Those the times I won't forget
Those the times when it was pure
Now this Porsche come with a cost and it ain't money
Look, the game ugly
It hurt when I learned it ain't for me
Trust me, the politicin' worth a few figures
But they talkin' down like, I don't know, people who shoot niggas
Shit is backwards
Beats and backwoods how I vent
Speak my mind, how you take it's exactly how I meant
Take your time, young nigga, take your time
Is what I say to myself
Tryna play all these cards that I been dealt
Are you shittin' me?
Boy, what's on me's also in me, so I'm Gucci
Don't think you got taste just 'cause you bit me, truthfully
I hope that I find a woman that fit me
And that my bundle of joy ain't with a bundle of Brittany

Even with the money and the power (Hahaha, money and the power)
Still won't respect you (Uh, still won't respect you)
And this world gon' test you (Yeah)
Oh, wish somebody told me
You can't forget where you started (Forget where you started, damn)
That's still where your heart is (Still where your heart is, real one 'til I
'm done)
This life is a blessing (That's on everything)
Blessing, blessing
