

Hit The Ceiling

Thirdstory

Strangers lying side by side
You come over time to time
Hello and then goodbye
Will you stay with me tonight?
It's a long way back to Morningside
You'll be walking for a while

You smile, say goodbye then close the door behind
What I'd do to hold you tight

My heart hit the ceiling
And I can't do anything (Don't leave me lying alone)
My heart hit the ceiling
'Cause you don't feel anything (Don't leave me lying alone)

All you see is black and white
You put your body over mine
Quick, intense, and quiet
I know you're lonely deep inside
You got a broken heart to hide
Love has left you tired

What I'd do to fall asleep with you right there
I'm in love, but you don't care

My heart hit the ceiling
And I can't do anything (Don't leave me lying alone)
My heart hit the ceiling
'Cause you don't feel anything (Leave me lying alone)

(Oh, no, ooh)
Feeling, we keep searching for a feeling (Oh, no)
Feeling, we keep searching for a feeling

My heart hit the ceiling
And I can't do anything
My heart hit the ceiling
'Cause you don't feel anything
(Don't leave me lying alone)

(Feeling, I've been searching for a feeling)
(Feeling, I've been searching for a feeling)
(Feeling, we keep searching for a feeling)
(Feeling, we keep searching for a feeling)
(Feeling, we keep searching for a feeling)
